Course Description:

Home | hōm | noun - the place where one lives permanently, especially as a member of a family or household. Ideally our home should be a place of refuge. Unfortunately, many homes have become dysfunctional. The church should be the place that teaches us how to put our home back in order. This relatively short Sunday School series will address general principles regarding different aspects of the home: marriage, child rearing, dating, and finances. A Sunday School setting gives students the opportunity to ask questions and give input adding to the learning experience.
